ADVICE NOTE NO. 7

High standards required by contractor and subcontractor

This advice note is directed at contractors and sub-contractors working on projects where I am inspecting architect:

My clients demand a high standard of construction and finish to their projects.

It is essential therefore that you as contractor/subcontractor do your utmost to try and achieve this level of standard.

If you are in any doubt over a particular detail, where joints should line up for example, or in fact any aspect of the build
